Q: Does the Governor's Budget include funding for repairs and maintenance of Florida National Guard facilities?

- Yes, the budget includes $13 million to support ongoing maintenance and repairs at readiness centers throughout the state, which are used year-round for training and operations of the Florida National Guard.

Q: What is the Revitalization and Modernization Program (REVAMP) at the Department of Military Affairs and why is it necessary?

- REVAMP is a multi-year initiative, supported by year three funding of $5.5 million, to renovate all 63 Florida National Guard readiness centers throughout the state. Major renovations are necessary to address failing infrastructure, life safety and ADA code compliance, and improved security to ensure the safety of our guardsmen and visitors.

Q: Which readiness centers will be renovated as part of REVAMP in year three?

- Year three will provide major renovations to the Starke, Palmetto and Cocoa Readiness Centers, all of which were last renovated more than 18 years ago.

Q: What does it mean for Camp Blanding to be a Level 2 facility and why does it currently not meet those standards?

- The National Guard ranks each of its facilities as Level 1-5 Training Centers (Level 1 being the highest standard) based on the types of training and facilities utilized at each location. Most of Florida's existing facilities are categorized between Level 5 and Level 3. Camp Blanding is currently the only location categorized as a Level 2 facility, meaning it supports simultaneous training for 5,000 to 11,999 guardsmen. Currently, Camp Blanding does not have the infrastructure to support this level of training, with only 3,000 beds and small live-fire and multi-purpose ranges and training facilities available.

Q: What happens if Camp Blanding continues to not meet Level 2 facility standards?

- Although Camp Blanding currently retains its Level 2 status, a continuing failure to meet federal standards may soon result in the removal of the facility's Level 2 status at a federal level and a potential reduction in the current Florida National Guard force allocation, which reduces the overall readiness of our Florida National Guard.

Q: Does the Governor's Budget fund new readiness centers for the Florida National Guard?

- Yes, the budget includes $18 million in state matching funds to construct a readiness center in Gainesville that will house approximately 175 guardsmen.
- The budget also includes $42 million to complete the construction of both the Immokalee and Zephyrhills Readiness Centers. These two facilities combined will provide training space for 350 guardsmen.

- $500,000 in state matching funds are also recommended to design a new Special Forces Readiness Center at Camp Blanding that will house up to 150 guardsmen.

Q: Does the Governor’s Budget fully fund the National Guard tuition assistance program?

- Yes, the budget includes $7.2 million, a $2 million recurring increase, to provide tuition assistance to all applicable Florida National Guardsmen pursuing higher education.
- In addition, $2 million in nonrecurring funds are included in the back of the bill to support additional guardsmen in the current year.

Q: Does the Governor’s Budget continue the Joint Enlistment and Enhancement Program (JEEP)? Are there any recommended changes to the Program?

- Yes, the budget reappropriates funds in the current year to continue to support JEEP next year.
- The Governor’s budget also expands the scope of JEEP in the Implementing Bill, allowing the department to provide up to a $5,000 retention bonus to guardsmen who re-enlist for a minimum of three years. This is in addition to the $1,000 recruitment bonus authorized in the current program.

Q: What is the new Florida National Guard Health Insurance Reimbursement Program and why is it necessary?

- The Program is a new initiative in the Governor’s budget to reimburse Florida guardsmen for the cost of their individual premium for federal health insurance, TRICARE Reserve Select.
- The Program aims to increase the overall operational readiness and availability of the Florida National Guard personnel for all state and federal missions.

The Florida State Guard

Q: What is the Florida State Guard?

- The Governor’s budget recommends the continuation of the Florida State Guard, which is a volunteer organization, under the purview of the Governor, to assist in emergencies.
- Specifically, the State Guard support units related to search and recovery, medical, logistics, communications, and other support functions that are needed during responses to hurricanes, natural disasters, and other emergencies.

Q: How many soldiers are currently in the Florida State Guard?

- Currently, there are 620 soldiers in the Florida State Guard, with 250 anticipated to attend entry level training in February. The Florida State Guard continues to receive membership applications and plans to conduct additional entry level training throughout the 2025-26 fiscal year for up to 700 additional soldiers for a goal of 1,500 soldiers by the end of the 2025-26 fiscal year.

Q: Why does the Florida State Guard need an additional $62 million in the current year?

- All the funding provided to date, including the positions, have been nonrecurring; therefore, a large portion of the $62 million is to support the annual cost of current operations. This includes the operation of maritime vessels and aircraft acquired over the past two years, as well as the annual cost of monthly, quarterly, and annual training and new soldier entry training.
- The remaining funding is for additional maritime vessels, ground transportation, and other equipment needed for emergency response missions.

Q: When was the Florida State Guard activated in the calendar year 2024?

- The Florida State Guard activated 730 soldiers across seven emergencies during the calendar year 2024. Activations included: Unnamed Winter Storm, Pembroke Pines Tornados, Operation Lone Star, Operation Vigilant Sentry, and Hurricanes Debby, Helene, and Milton.

Management Services

Q: Does the Governor's Budget include funding to maintain state facilities?

- Yes, the budget includes $58 million to provide employees and visitors at state-owned office buildings with a safe and efficient working environment.

Q: Does the Governor's Budget include funding for new state buildings?

- Yes, the budget includes $57 million for phase one of a new office building and parking structure in the Capital Circle Office Complex in Leon County. The facility will consolidate approximately 1,000 employees from aged and inefficient facilities, resulting in an overall state footprint reduction.

Q: Does the Governor's Budget proposal make changes to health benefits for state employees?

- The budget makes improvements to the weight management pilot program to increase active engagement in the wellness program component to ensure participants are learning how to live a healthy lifestyle beyond the assistance of medication. The improvements also allow participants whose body mass index falls below the criteria to continue to access the wellness program component the following year for continued support. Additionally, the budget includes a transfer of $348 million from General Revenue to the State Employees Health Insurance Trust Fund to cover projected needs.

Q: How much in savings have been achieved through the Shared Savings Program in the State Group Health Insurance plan?

- Since 2019, Bundled Surgical Services have saved the state $37 million and resulted in employee rewards in the amount of $5.6 million.
- Since 2019, Transparency Services have saved the state $33.3 million and resulted in employee rewards in the amount of $9.2 million.

Q: Does the Governor's Budget include initiatives to help reduce the growth in the cost of the State Employees Health Insurance Program?

- Yes, the budget includes a $2 million investment to provide a mobile app-based benefits navigation and engagement platform to assist members in accessing their benefits and increasing participation in cost saving programs and high-value care. To ensure value to the State, the service is required to have a guaranteed return on investment and be based on a per-engaged user cost structure.

Q: Does the Governor's Budget include funding to assist local governments with Emergency 911 systems?

- Through a current year investment of nearly $19 million, all local government Public Safety Answering Points are being upgraded to allow the transfer of an emergency call from one local, multijurisdictional, or regional E911 system to another. The Governor's budget includes $1.8 million in recurring funds for fiscally constrained counties to help cover increased operational and maintenance costs attributed to the upgrades.

Q: Does the Governor's Budget include funding to address the increasing number of cyber threats?

- Yes, the budget includes $67.5 million in various state agencies for security, training, and resiliency resources. While Florida has improved its cybersecurity posture in recent years, it is vital to continue to invest in modern cybersecurity initiatives to maintain pace with the ever-evolving technology landscape to ensure Floridians' sensitive information and critical infrastructure are protected.
